Saudi Arabia – Social Insurance process changes announced.

Effective from 1 February 2022, the General Organization for Social Insurance (GOSI) has announced the following amendments to the GOSI registration and contributions processes:

- Contributions for mid-month starters and leavers - Based on the announced amendments, GOSI contributions for mid-month starters and leaver will be prorated based on the actual number of days worked by the employees during the respective month.

For example, if an employee joined on 20 January and resigned on 10 March, the employer will be liable for the GOSI contributions for 12 days in January and 10 days in March.

- Employee registration and deregistration - In accordance with the new amendment, employers will be required to register new hires and deregister leavers in the same month the employee starts or leaves and a 30-day grace period for completing employee GOSI registrations or de-registrations will no longer be available.
- Salary changes - effective from 1 February 2022, the annual GOSI salary updates will no longer be available, and all salary changes must be made through the GOSI portal by the end of the month that follows the effective date of the salary change.
- Joining and last working day for expatriate employees - the effective joining date for all expatriate employees will be the date of the employee's arrival to Saudi Arabia or the date their residency permit is transferred to the employer. The last working day for the expatriate employees will be the date when the employee departs the country or when their residency permit is transferred to another employer.

Please contact your Mercans' services delivery team for any additional information regarding the implications of the above change.
